A Good Work.

The distinguished and eloquent gentlemen, who have addressed the people recently at various places in the State, upon the state of the country and the duty of loyal citizens in the present crisis, deserve general gratitude we hope they will not faint or grow weary in the good work It would be well for arrangements to be made in every village for public addresses during the ensuing spring We have no doubt that speakers, who will be well received, can be readily obtained, and we know that a deep and patriotic interest exists throughout the whole State, which is anxious to respond heartily to every loyal appeal Besides this, it must not be forgotten that there are many in every community, who have been inclined, in some degree, to sympathize with the rebellion—a class, who need information and enlightenment—to call such back from their treasonable proclivities is most important, and this must be done, by all the means, through which their minds can be reached and influenced The loyal press of the State will, we feel sure, do its duty faithfully and with zeal, but it cannot in many instances accomplish what may be effected by the earnest and thrilling appeals of patriotic speakers. There is work for all who love and desire to labor in behalf of the country, by tongue and pen, in season and out of season, let every friend of the Union do his share of duty in striving to save the heritage of liberty, and to overthrow the schemes and devices of those who seem never to become exhausted in their mischievous efforts to build up a sectional party on the ruins of the Government

SENATOR MCDOUGAL.—In the California Senate, resolutions in place of those demanding the resignation of this Senator, who loves Democracy more than he does his country, have been reported setting forth that he "has violated the letter and spirit, the whole scope and substance of his pledges, and stands in the position of one who has obtained high place by promises false in their making, or wilfully violated without justification or excuse, and that the political associations and political and personal conduct of the said James A. McDougall, is a wilful misrepresentation of the wishes, the opinions and habits of the people of California, that in all respects we repudiate him, and we call upon all loyal men in and out of office to exonerate the people of California from imputations which the conduct of the senior Senator from California is so well calculated to invite." It is expected that these resolutions will be adopted We hope so, and that other Senators, who seem to think that they are under no obligations to act as they promised, when they sought an election, will take warning, and abstain for the future from all political action which savors more of Democracy than it does of patriotism

ALARMING—VERY!—The Review has heard that a loyal league has been established in Eugene City, and thinks it likely that it is something very ferocious and dangerous, and suggests that perhaps it will have guns and other weapons, "for the purpose of keeping the Copperheads from outvoting the Abolitionists at the polls" But it says, "as Democrats we mean to vote, and to vote our sentiments" in spite of such arrangements, bully for the us! We admire their desperate courage, and hope that the terrible fellows who have guns up there will use them easy—of course they must not let the Copperheads outvote the Abolitionists, but in stopping them, the best way is to make them vote with the so-called Abolitionists, as they will be very apt to do, if the league exercises the patriotic influence in that section, which similar associations do elsewhere. So the Review had better look out or its vote will be almost solitary

SLAVERY AND MOUNT SINAI.—A rebel paper in the following paragraph claims Mount Sinai as the authority for slavery

What if the Yankees take and occupy Lookout Mountain? The sacred code which guarantees and recognizes the rights of the South in the interests and institutions which now exists against her the hungry, howling hordes of Yankee miscreants, was uttered not from Lookout, but from Mount Sinai Will the Yankees scale that?

SANITARY.—The Sanitary Fair in Boston closed after a season of seven days The receipts were far beyond the expectations of the most sanguine among its projectors the sum being considerably over $100,000 This is something more than $40 000 over the receipts of the great Western Fair at Chicago to which all the States in that region sent in their contributions

General Butler has, during the short time that he has been in command of the Department of Virginia and North Carolina, enlisted between three and four thousand colored soldiers He took the responsibility of offering a bounty of ten dollars, which had a marked effect to stimulate enlistments The War Department has since ratified his action

A Shameful Record.

What a history are those men preparing for themselves, who now talk and write and vote in favor and encouragement of treason When peace returns and blesses the nation—when the flag of universal and triumphant liberty once more floats with renewed honor and brighter glory over every portion of the land—when those now in arms against the best Government the world ever saw, shall return to their allegiance and look back at their present mad and foolish wicked loss to amazement what must be the reflections and the position of the volunteer traitors at the North, who without the excuse of fancied sectional interests have basely attempted to aid in the destruction of their country and to make it one universal field of blood and desolation? For them there can be no apology of honest error, no consolation of conscious rectitude, for they know what they are doing they understand their own business, and ingratitude to the land, which has been their lifelong home and defence, and they cannot help realizing in the days to come that they deserve an infamy and contempt, which always belong to traitors, as the merited wages of treason. For all this, they will have nobody to blame but themselves, and they ought now to foresee and to provide against the popular wrath which is certain to be vented upon them if they continue to manifest hostility to the institutions of freedom, and to express their sympathy for the purposes and the leaders of the rebellion.

HONEST ABE REPORTED TO HAVE PERSONALLY SETTLED THE REBEL RAM QUESTION WITH ENGLAND.—A correspondent of the Tribune gives a brand new reason for the change of front of the British Cabinet on the rebel ram question This change, it would seem, from the assertions of the Tribune writer, was brought about by President Lincoln, who, in the absence at a certain time of Mr Seward from Washington, undertook, as we are told, a little bit of unofficial diplomacy which settled the vexed question at once But let me give you the story in the writer's own words Says he

While Mr Seward was absent on the excursion in which he was accompanied by certain of the diplomatic corps, President Lincoln wrote the following (unofficial) letter to Mr Adams our Minister to England Like most of the President's letters, it was very brief, and ran substantially as follows

'What do the British Government mean? What do they want? Do they really want war? It may be the most disastrous thing in the world for us and it is certainly what we most earnestly desire to avoid; but if those rams are permitted to leave England the people will force us into war, whether we wish it or not. We shall not be able to control their exasperation and the British Government ought to understand this'

Minister Adams upon receiving this letter called upon Earl Russell, and said to him in substance

I do not call upon your lordship in my official capacity But I have received a plain, outspoken, sincere letter from President Lincoln, which, though addressed to me as a private epistle and not as an official document, I am sure was not designed to be withheld from your knowledge

He accordingly read the note to the English Minister for Foreign Affairs, and closed by saying 'This is not diplomacy, your lordship, but the honest, straightforward dealing of a plain blunt man' A few days afterward the order for the detention of the rebel rams was promulgated

THE COLORED TROOPS IN ARKANSAS.—A Paymaster in our army in Arkansas, writes from Helena, Ark, on the 5th of November, as follows

I think Arkansas more loyal to-day than Missouri She was forced out of the Union by a few bad men like Handman Among other troops here, I have three colored regiments, American citizens of African descent I have paid most of them, and I can assure you I have enjoyed it very much It is a new field to study human nature They really make good soldiers and at their dress parades they make a capital appearance All they need is confidence These poor creatures have been in bondage so long that the manhood is crushed out of them and since their enlistment they have been told that the Government was only fooling them, that it did not intend to pay them, etc. The effect of the Paymaster being in camp was electrical Their eyes brightened up, and to them it seemed a new era had dawned upon them When they had but seven dollars per month, and I believe that one dollar would have had the same effect. They could hardly suppress their enthusiasm A great many amusing incidents happened In each company there are about four Georges Washingtons—fifth Henry Clays, fifth Andrew Jacksons—and any amount of misers and doctors I really think that Providence has taken this question of slavery into its own hands Everything proclaims that chivalry is fully played out.

A NEW THEOLOGY.—Rev Charles Beecher and his brother Rev Edward Beecher are making a sensation in the religious world by their novel theological ideas. We hear much of this being an age of progress The boldest theorists are more likely to find disciples, than those who follow in paths upon which the light of revelation has been thrown The Beechers alluded to have undertaken to give a biography of the devil We quote a sample

"We are all created in a previous world, and were drawn into apostacy by the fallen angels. God then proposed to create this world as a hospital for our race, introduce us here and heal us of sin. It was proposed to Lucifer to become our Redeemer He refused God then chose a younger brother, who proved willing To him was added the divine nature, and he came among us the Christ

As it seemed doubtful whether Christ could do this work that Lucifer refused to do, he, Lucifer remained in heaven after his refusal, till Christ's resurrection Lucifer was not expelled while he could cause a doubt whether this redemption could be accomplished

"Mr Beecher believed that Lucifer remained in heaven until Christ came, Christ was younger than Lucifer Christ took the form of an angel in heaven, and the human and divine became united He was formerly one of the angelic host; Satan was an elder brother of Christ I am not alone in believing, said Mr Beecher, and Lucifer was not expelled from heaven till the resurrection of Christ"

FROM SAN DOMINGO.—Dates from St Domingo are to the 24th Dec The capture of Azua by the Spaniards is confirmed, but the Standard says that although it cost two months fighting and many lives its possession is of no great importance to the Spaniards A train of 80 mules laden with ammunition for Santa Anna's army was captured on the 5th by Dominicans Twelve thousand Spaniards left St Domingo city on the 9th December to capture St Cristoval but were terribly harrassed by Dominican guerrillas, and on reaching a desile of the river Junio were driven back to the city, losing 200 killed and wounded The Dominicans still hold St. Cristoval thus preventing all land communication with the place occupied by the Spaniards Two hundred Spaniards 300 rifles and 40 000 rounds of cartridges were captured by the Dominicans at Tobano Santa Anna's supply depot The Spaniards are strengthening St Domingo city by a redoubt Santa Anna at Cape San Domingo and has lately been reinforced by 1 000 men Yet there was more than 700 sick in the camp He is unable to move his army His position is critical and it was feared the Dominican might inflict a fatal blow

THE NEVADA ELECTION.—The news of the defeat of the Nevada Constitution did not surprise us in the least Under the circumstances the success was an impossibility The Constitution in itself was unobjectionable only to Copperheads and traitors who are opposed to taxing the mines Under the most harmonious state of political affairs it would have been very hard work to have carried the Constitution but considering the entanglements with which it was surrounded it was an utter impossibility From the day of the Storey County Convention, whereat the Union men were thrown overboard and a semi-Copperhead majority of the State Convention secured the fate of the Constitution was sealed The State Convention by its nominees, added the feather which broke the camel's back—Some of these nominees were excellent and we should have been pleased to know that they had succeeded The candidates however, were not such as should have been made—besides the members of the Legislature were pledged to the election of certain men for U S Senators In short we may say that nearly all the Old Administration men in the Territory were thrown overboard and discarded and among them such men as Gov Nye and Judge North The Convention party thereby took too heavy a load to carry outside of the taxation question and was defeated We should have been pleased had the Constitution been adopted It was an organic act framed up to the element of the times and deserved a better fate But it was unfortunately the poor Tray in bad company and the enemies of the State unites, together with the enemies of a true Republican Constitution slew it Its defeat is the loss of a large amount of labor and money—but, in our judgment, the people of Nevada will say it is Better to bear the ills we have

Than fly to others that we know not of —Marysville Appeal

COLORED SOLDIERS MURDERED BY THE REBELS.—The reader may remember the capture in June last of a company of colored soldiers at Milliken's Bend Miss, while Gen Grant was investing Vicksburg They were taken while fighting bravely, with the odds fearfully against them It was the first instance of note in which colored soldiers had been in action and the men proved their bravery and capacity to the admiration even of those who doubted the ability of the freedmen to make soldiers The engagement took place at Milliken's Bend a few miles North of Vicksburg A captain, a first lieutenant and about eighty men were taken prisoners Since their captivity their fate has been involved in profound mystery, Nothing official could be learned concerning them, and from the known vindictiveness of the rebel military authorities the worst was apprehended Information has been received at the War Department, by way of Texas, stating that these apprehensions were too well founded It appears that the prisoners were conveyed into the country several miles, and placed in close confinement. No intimation of their fate was given them. After several days the officers were taken out at dead of night, and the word given out that they escaped. It now appears that they were hanged without previous notice or even a semblance of a trial, in obedience to a secret order from the rebel Secretary of War A few days afterward the other prisoners also disappeared mysteriously, and there is no doubt, that they also, were secretly murdered by direction of the Richmond authorities What retaliation shall be inflicted for these most barbarous atrocities is yet to be determined. It does not appear as yet that any colored soldier has fallen into the hands of the rebels who was not either put to death on the spot or subsequently assassinated in secret by order from Richmond—N Y Evening Post

ATTORNEYS FOR TREASON.—Sunset Cox of Ohio, thinks the measure providing for the confiscation of the property of traitors is designed to extinguish what little "Unionism" remains in the South Cox therefore regards traitors as the only true Unionists in the South And that is undoubtedly the view of the case taken by the party of which Cox is leader Every Southern man who has suffered in person and property on account of his fidelity to the old flag is denounced by this party as an abolitionist, and every blood stained rebel politician or General is either directly or indirectly lauded and defended by the same curious devotees of the Constitution and the Union It is not for the property of Johnson Brownlow, Maynard, Trigg Hamilton and other Southern patriots that Cox and his kind are pleading, but for the absolute immunity in person and property of Davis Lee, Beauregard, Bragg, Polmdis, Breckinridge and the other contrivers and leaders in this war for the destruction of the American Union If any Union man is disposed to wonder at the frequent bitterness of debate in Congress, let him think for a moment what a trial of patience it must be to listen in the National councils to such daring and atrocious pleas for treason and traitors as those which this Ohio attorney and his associates are in the habit of inflicting upon our representatives While the whole country is groaning at the rapid accumulation of debt—while the symbols of mourning are multiplying in every part of the loyal States—while the slaughter of our brethren continues upon Southern fields, such men as Cox are found raising their voices against touching the property of the prominent authors of this wanton and diabolical work!—Sac Union

SEWARD EJECT.—Secretary Seward's dispatch to Minister Adams, saying, in plain terms, that the United States Government will hold the British Government responsible for the depredations of the Alabama, and that the claims for damages now in the hands of our Minister must be pressed, is a step in the right direction. The ground taken is fortified by the public opinion of the loyal States and the judgment of our wisest statesmen The fact that our Government has taken and will maintain this position will constitute a powerful argument for a withdrawal of those belligerent rights upon the ocean which Great Britain, with indecent haste conceded to the rebels When it is certain that John Bull must stop the ravages of his pseudo privateers or pay the expenses, either peacefully or in consequence of the war, there is reason to expect that mercenary personage will take the cheapest course. But the wiles of diplomacy may be employed to postpone a decision upon these claims for the reason that the pirate cruisers are of immense advantage to the British shipping interests, and therefore, either now or after the next great blow at the rebellion, a formal demand should be made that British ports be closed against the Alabama and her associates as pirates As for Napoleon, who has taken the Florida under his special protection, he will abandon his neutrality in American affairs as soon as Europe shall give him warlike employment—Sac Union

CONSERVATORY.—A writer alluding to the tendency of the times to adopt calico for wear because it is dear says Of course, as soon as calico is scarce and expensive the ladies wish to wear it and were there to be a sudden dearth in the sackcloth and ashes market there is no doubt the dear creatures would dress in clothing themselves in that scriptural but at present not prevalent style of garment"

TRUTH STRANGER THAN FICTION.—Forty years ago a cattle planter came from Florida to Louisiana to reside on Washington grounds, bringing with him a man of color, one of thirteen of his slaves When the latter left his master with whom she had now obtained was revenge of which nothing should foil him

The father had met with a sudden death, the will had been either concealed or destroyed, and his person in all appearance of Saxon birth with the exception of a slight swarthiness common to all natives of the extreme South was taken chained as a slave his horses and furniture sold and, accompanied by his beautiful heart broken wife, faithful and unfaltering in this living death, from the fashionable circles of Washington society, exiled to the "plantation," to toil in slavery, beneath the infuriated lash of a vindictive family Mr Monroe assured him a situation should be given him, if he ever could prove his manumission or escape, He never afterwards was heard from in this district, for, as Napoleon said of convents, "the terrible mysteries of slave prisons perish unrevealed"—N Y Eve Post

TRUANT HUSBANDS AND TRUANT WIVES.—The Wheeling Register of the 18th instant relates a queer story The crime of conjugal infidelity keeps pace with the demoralization of the times, and such stories are fearfully frequent in the newspapers of the day Says the Register

One day last week, Mrs Emma Goodwin of Noble county Ohio, started from her home to go to Pennsylvania, to visit some relatives who reside in Greene county, in that State—leaving her husband and two small children aged respectively about 5 and 7 years and hired girl at home to keep house Her husband amply provided her with funds to pay her way before her departure About the same time, George Taylor, who resides in the same neighborhood and who was able to rejoice in the possession of a handsome wife and two intelligent little 'pledges of affection started West "on business"—but some how or other he took the wrong road, and arrived in Wheeling about the same time with Mrs Emma Goodwin They remained at one of our hotels all night passing as man and wife and the next morning took the Pittsburg train It seems that after two or three days travel they brought up at Cleveland Arriving just before meal time after a hastily prepared toilet, they passed to the dining-room and were seated near the head of the table—Mrs Emma immediately appoints her husband Mr Taylor immediately opposite his wife!

It seems that a day or two after Mrs Goodwin left home Mr G took it into head to attempt to seduce Mrs Taylor from her 'sacred allegiance to elope with him in her husband's absence—in which, it seems, he had but little trouble in succeeding—neither of them ever dreaming that their companions were just then committing like acts of adultry

The scene that ensued after the mutual recognition at the Cleveland dinner table was neither tragic nor ridiculous as might be imagined, but like philosophical people who found themselves in a very bad sell would do, they quietly, and as if moved by some secret understanding, withdrew to a private room were they arranged that each man should take his own wife and go back to their homes and children, and try to live wiser and better men and women in the future

THE "GREAT EASTERN" GHOST.—Capt. Paton, of the steamship Great Eastern tells the following ghost story in connection with the great ship. An impression got abroad that the ship was haunted, the alleged ghost being that of an unfortunate riveter, who was heard plying his avocation in one of the wells or compartments Before the vessel left the country he believed that one of the men employed in her construction was missing The man was a riveter, he was missed from the ship, and never came for his wages, the supposition being that he was riveted up in some part of the vessel So firmly impressed were some of the men with this idea that they left the ship in consequence, and affirmed that they had heard their departed friend busily engaged riveting in the middle of the night. The story was believed by many persons in New York and on one occasion, while the ship was under repairs, a diver signalled to be drawn up He deposited pails with fright, and declared the ghost of the riveter was busy in the bottom part of the ship in fact that he began riveting immediately over his head Such was the consternation amongst the divers that they called in the aid of one of the spirit mediums, who are somewhat numerous in the city of New York The medium came on board and, after an examination, declared that the missing man was there, both in body and spirit Fortunately he (Captain Paton) by pure accident was enabled to dispel the illusion Being in a boat near the bows of the ship, he discovered that a swivel connected with the moorings worked to and fro the movement causing a think or vibration, which at times more especially at night, was heard throughout the vessel It was this sound which had conjured up, in connection with the supposed fate of the unfortunate riveter the phantom whose mysterious doings spread such consternation on board the big ship

INDIAN HOSTILITIES IN KLAMATH COUNTY.—Mr E D Bullock, writes us a letter from Crescentville on Salmon river dated 17th P M stating that the Now river and Hoopa Indians have made a raid on the river; They first came on Pony creek, drove the miners from there over here. They came down Indian creek killing Wm Tibbs, Ikham Frank and it is also feared they have killed George Brown who kept a small store at the mouth of Plunder creek This was done about 9 A M yesterday They then went down the South Fork to Dunfrey's store and took what they wanted without killing any one at that time Last night a party of eight men went down from here to Dunfrey's, and were there joined by three or four more, when they proceeded down the forks of Salmon river where they came upon the Indians, who had fortified themselves in an old blacksmith shop and fired on the whites The whites fell back to Dunfrey's store, and sent to this place for reinforcements when a party of 20 men started to their assistance It is reported that the Indians killed three white men at the first fire at the forks named J Stewart R Roberts and R D Dunfrey They also killed some Chinamen how many is not known at present A party of 16 men left here this morning and burned the men killed in Plunder creek—Yreka Journal

FROM MEXICO.—San Luis Potosi was occupied on the 24th by Mexican troops On the 23d it was still in the hands of the States of Durango and Zacatecas Fighting lasted four hours when Juarez was driven back and cut his artillery to pieces and several prisoners In the battle of Mexico one of Juarez's generals was killed and four wounded Three generated to the public square, and were only driven out after hard fighting Juarez retreated towards Puebla, who he is reported to have been followed by the French

The Liberal Governor of Matamoras, Tamaulipas has issued a decree intended for the Confederate States, in which the Juarez party declare themselves in a state of siege, and declare by a French detachment with the forces of order

The Mexican news relative to the defeat of Juarez's army and the flight of Juarez confirmed that another version of the battle states that Juarez troops were successful at Zapanata, Tamaulipas, Tetuloquito and Cuzalun and have also captured the towns of Tapalitlin and Hunjapapan from the French

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan 30.—Later Mexican dates are to Dec 28. Diaz has captured the city of Orizaba and the entire French and Mexican traitor garrison The Mexican traitors taken prisoners were all shot This capture, commands French communication with Vera Cruz

On January 5th the French occupied Guadalajara without resistance

City of Mexico advices state that the Triumvirate had sent a Commissioner to the Confederate Government at Richmond The object is to make with

Further Mexican papers continue to abuse Mr Corwin The Siecle, interested the correspondence of Corwin, in which he advocates allowing the Mexicans to recruit to the number of 20,000 Americans in the United States

Wasco County Union Convention.

The Union voters of the several precincts of Wasco county are respectfully invited to hold primary meetings according to the usual custom to elect delegates to a County Union Convention to be held at the city of DALLAS on THE 12TH DAY OF MARCH 1864, for the purpose of choosing delegates to the Union State Convention to be held at Albany March 26th 1864 and also for the purpose of making a nomination for county officers to be supported at the next June election and for the purpose of transacting such other business as may properly come before the convention

It is recommended by the Committee that at the time of the great increase of the voting population in this county will in the last year as well as believing that the late apportionment of delegates by the State Committee does not give this county a fair and equal representation in the State Convention, therefore the county convention ought to choose fifteen instead of ten delegates to the Union State Convention.

The several precincts will be entitled to the following number of delegates in the county convention at Dalles, 3, Hood River 1, Dalton, 1, Fifteen Mile Creek, 1, Deschutes, 2 John Days, 2, Tygh 1, Canyon City, 1, Total 50

The Committee recommends that the precinct meetings be held on Saturday the 27th day of February next

We also recommend to the counties of Baker and Umatilla that the delegates from said counties and the delegate from Wasco county to the State Convention meet at Dalles City on Friday the 25th day of March next for the purpose of making nominations for the offices of District Judge and District Attorney for this Judicial District, to be supported at the next June election.

PORTLAND AND HER ENVIRONS.—There are but a few persons to be found in Portland who know comparatively little of the magnificence of the scenery that surrounds our fast rising city. Such a day as yesterday, so pleasant and clear, is a most fitting one for a walk to some locality where these views may be seen. Starting up Front street as you near the Penitentiary and gain higher ground, the view of old Mount Hood improves. Seldom of late has it been seen for clouds and fogs, but yesterday he appeared perfectly splendid in the new winter's dress he has received since the warm days of last Autumn. Mount St. Helens and Mount Adams, in the absence of Mount Hood, would be objects of more interest than they now are, but they help to make up a beautiful picture of nature, with the quiet Willamette for a foreground, which is well worth the walk to see. From Robinson's Hill a view of the city, the waters of the Columbia, the Willamette, the different Mounts, and the southern continuation of the Cascade range, over the tall pines east of the city, may all be seen at once. After such rich views of what nature has spread about us, ex-Secretary, who would object to living in Portland on account of the climate.

THE THEATRE.—We were pleased to see a good audience, both as regards respectability and number, at the Willamette Theatre again last evening. The appearance of Mrs. Julia Jean Hayne, as Pauline, in the Lady of Lyons, was excellent, and her reading in every respect worthy. Miss Goodrich took the charmless of Widow Melnotte—her forte being more of the young and blooming cast, she could not appear quite at home last evening; notwithstanding, it was plainly understood, and her support of Mrs. Hayne was favorable. Mr. Waldron, as Claude, was well received. The apology of Mr. Mortimer, for Mr. Thayer's not appearing, to answer the call of the audience, was perfectly satisfactory. A splendid bill is out for to-night.

DEPARTURE OF THE OREGON.—The steamship Oregon took her departure at 2 o'clock P. M. yesterday. Her cargo consisted of 4,000 boxes of apples, 21 dressed sheep and three head of horses, exclusive of what the Julia took down to the mouth of the Willamette, leaving Couch's wharf at six o'clock last evening. Wells, Fargo & Co. sent out $100,000 by express. Other parties are known to have shipped a considerable amount.

THE COQUIN arrived about ten o'clock last evening, having made a very excellent run, and brought a full cargo, consisting of hay, oats, oysters, and several large sturgeon. Capt. Holman reports the Active as being ready for sea, and when he left Astoria was waiting for a signal from the pilot boat, when she would leave. The Oregon was at anchor near the mouth of the Willamette, and the Julia had just arrived alongside as the Couch passed, so we do not expect a report from her until to-day.

THE FIRST SIGHT.—We yesterday took a look at the plans for the new Court House, now on exhibition at the Clerk's office. Two plans, with three views of the elevation, have been presented, which, to the credit of the architects all speak well. We cannot canvass their respective merits, but when either is adopted will speak of it in detail.

THE SOCIABLE which met at the basement of the Presbyterian Church last night was numerously attended, and passed off very pleasantly. Mr. Wyatt, assisted by the choir, sang several fine songs to the party. The receipts of the evening were very satisfactory to the society of ladies having control.

PERSONAL.—Major Francis and his lady were among the passengers of the Oregon. They go to Victoria, and will return on the steamer of the 24th. In the meantime Major F. expects to visit and pay off the United States soldiers at San Juan, and other posts in the Sound.

INCREASING.—Freight and travel to the upper country is gradually increasing. A large number of passengers went up on the steamer Wilson G. Hunt yesterday morning, and for the same trip shows a much larger freight list than for sometime past.

MR. HAINES informed us by telegraph last evening of his arrival at Salem. He was to leave this morning for Albany to establish an office there. No dispatches from the East were received.

COUNTY COURT.—The County Court for this County, Judge Marquam presiding, met at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, and continued in session most of the day, very little business came up yesterday.

SPLIT THE DIFFERENCE.—The steamship split two hours ahead of the time stated, and Julia two hours behind the time. That makes it square.

THE LIBRARY ASSOCIATION meet again this evening at the District Court Room to hear the reports of committees, and for the transaction of other business.

THE FALKENBURG.—Capt. Wiggin expects to sail by Friday. The damages his bark sustained by the thump of the steamship are being speedily repaired.

THE MILWAUKEE arrived yesterday afternoon with another full cargo. She was a great attraction, and very many were on the dock to see her land.

POLICE COURT.—Edward Mason was up before Recorder McCoy on the charge of being drunk and disorderly. He was fined $5 and default was sent to jail for three days.

The COWLITZ arrived yesterday afternoon with a full cargo of apples and other articles of produce. She landed at three wharves.

PEARSON'S GRAND HISTORIC MIRROR OF THE WAR will be taken up to the Dalles to-day, owing to the Theatre engagement in this city, but as soon as an opportunity is afforded, our citizens will have a chance to witness it. The following, from the Placerville (Cal.) Times, gives a pretty good idea of what it is:

"This entertainment consists of a combination of splendid paintings, representing the different scenes and events for passed through in this great but wicked rebellion, commencing with the firing of the first gun at Sumter, and ending with the late bombardment of Fort Sumter and Wagner by the Federal forces. We cannot enumerate the different scenes in full, but suffice it to say, they were spellbound with wonder and delight with the magnificent recollection that met our gaze. The painting of the gallant 7th Regiment of New York, marching down Broadway, elicited great enthusiasm, and is most say in a very superior work of art. The perspective of this scene is admirably shown, and a person can almost fancy himself standing on the balcony of the St. Nicholas, looking up the great thoroughfare, at Grace Church in the distance. The battle of Bull's Run, and death of Colonel Baker, seems to bring forth wicked rebellion home to our own doors, and every person in the city should not fail to witness this scene. There is one scene, however, which is sure to create the most undivided and intense interest, and that is the great naval battle between the Monitor and Merrimac. This scene is entirely dramatic and the huge iron-clad monsters are seen sailing in, and go through a regular engagement, the effect is wonderful, and the exhibition can hardly realize but what it is real. In fact the exhibition is the best ever offered to the public, and we advise every one to see it."

INTERVENTION.—Every few weeks when the conviction is becoming settled that foreign intervention is impossible, a hue and cry is raised that England or France has resolved to intervene, and some how will you, nil-you, bring our national struggle to a close. Notwithstanding these rumors the finest clothing is still supplied by the celebrated Clothiers, Houston, Hastings & Co., of Montgomery street, corner of Sutter, San Francisco. Their goods are fashionable and durable and consequently their regular customers are continually increasing.

Samaritan Lodge No. 2, I. O. of O. F.—Meets every Wednesday Evening, at 7 o'clock, in Stark's Building, third story, opposite the Bonnion House. Members of the order are invited to attend.

PORTLAND AND HER ENVIRONS.—There are but few persons to be found in Portland who know comparatively little of the magnificence of the scenery that surrounds our fast rising city. Such a day as yesterday, so pleasant and clear, is a most fitting one for a walk to some locality where these views may be seen. Starting up Front street as you near the Penitentiary and gain higher ground, the view of Mount Hood improves. Seldom of late has he been seen for clouds and fogs, but yesterday he appeared perfectly splendid, in the new winter's dress he has received since the warm days of last Autumn. Mount St Helens and Mount Adams, in the absence of Mount Hood, would be objects of more interest than they now are, but they help to make up a beautiful picture of nature, with the quiet Willamette for a foreground, which is well worth the walk to see. From Robinson's Hill views of the city, the waters of the Columbia, the Willamette, the different Mounts, and the Cascade range, over the tall pines east of the city, may all be seen at once. After such rich views of what nature has spread about us, [illegible] who would object to living in Portland on account of the climate.

THE THEATRE.—We were pleased to see a full audience, both as regards respectability and number, at the Willamette Theatre again last evening. The appearance of Mrs. Julia Dean Hayne, as Pauline, in the Lady of Lyons, was excellent, and her reading in every respect worthy. Miss Goodrich took the character of Widow Melnotte—her forte being more of the young and blooming lass, she could not appear quite at home last evening, notwithstanding, it was plainly understood, and her support of Mrs. Hayne was admirable. Mr Aldrich, as Claude, was well received. The apology of Mr Mortimer, for Mr Thayer's non appearing, to answer the call of the audience, was perfectly satisfactory. A splendid bill is out for to night.

DEPARTURE OF THE OREGON.—The steamship Oregon took her departure at 2 o'clock P M yesterday. Her cargo consisted of 4,000 boxes apples, 21 dressed sheep and three head of horses, exclusive of what the Julia took to the mouth of the Willamette, leaving a wharf at six o'clock last evening. Wells Fargo & Co. sent out $100,000 by her. Other parties are known to have shipped a considerable amount.

THE COUCH arrived about ten o'clock last evening, having made a very excellent run, and brought a full cargo, consisting of hay, oysters, and several large sturgeon. Holman reports the Active as being off sea, and when he left Astoria was waiting for a signal from the pilot boat, when she could leave. The Oregon was at anchor at the mouth of the Willamette, and the Couch had just arrived alongside as the Couch passed, so we do not expect a report from her until to day.

THE FIRST SIGHT.—We yesterday took a look at the plans for the new Court House, now on exhibition at the Clerk's office. Two sheets with three views of the elevation, have been presented, which, to the credit of the architects all speak well. We cannot canvass their respective merits, but when either is selected will speak of it in detail.

THE SOCIABLE which met at the basement of the Presbyterian Church last night was very seriously attended, and passed off very pleasantly. Mr. Wyatt, assisted by the choir, sang several fine songs to the party. The reports of the evening were very satisfactory to the society of ladies having control.

PERSONAL.—Major Francis and his lady are among the passengers of the Oregon, now gone to Victoria, and will return on the former of the 24th. In the meantime Major Francis expects to visit and pay off the United States soldiers at San Juan, and other posts on the Sound.

INCREASING.—Freight and travel to the upper country is gradually increasing. A large number of passengers went up on the steamer Wilson G. Hunt yesterday morning, and the same trip shows a much larger freight than for sometime past.

MR. HAINES informed us by telegraph last evening of his arrival at Salem. He was to leave this morning for Albany to establish an office there. No dispatches from the East were received.

COUNTY COURT.—The County Court for this county, Judge Marquam presiding, met at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, and continued in session most of the day, very little business coming up yesterday.

SEE THE DIFFERENCE.—The steamship Active two hours ahead of the time stated, and the Julia two hours behind the time. That makes a difference.

THE LIBRARY ASSOCIATION met again this evening at the District Court Room to hear the reports of committees, and for the transaction of other business.

THE FALKINBURG.—Capt. Waggin expects to sail by Friday. The damages the bark sustained by the thump of the steamship are being speedily repaired.

THE MILWAUKIE arrived yesterday afternoon with another full cargo. She was a great attraction, and very many were on the dock to see her land.

POLICE COURT.—Edward Mason was up before Recorder McCoy on the charge of being drunk and disorderly. He was fined $5 and default was sent to jail for three days.

THE COWLITZ arrived yesterday afternoon with a full cargo of apples and other articles of produce. She landed at three wharves.

PEARSON'S GRAND HISTORIC MIRROR OF THE WAR will be taken up to the Dalles to day, owing to the Theatre engagement in this city, but as soon as an opportunity is afforded, our citizens will have a chance to witness it. The following from the Placerville (Cal.) [illegible] gives a pretty good idea of what it is:

"A concert was given last night at the [illegible] Hall, for the benefit of the [illegible] Regiment of New York in charge of Major [illegible] The object of the [illegible] was to present to the different companies a full set of rifles, to say nothing of the [illegible] bound with wooden and [illegible] with the [illegible] collected [illegible] amount. The [illegible] Regiment [illegible] Grace Church, the [illegible] Battle of Bull Run, and [illegible] Colonel Baker [illegible] bring this wicked rebellion home to our own doors. Every person in the city [illegible] will be with us in the [illegible] These [illegible] effects [illegible] scenes entirely dramatic [illegible] are seen sailing in and [illegible] the effect is wonderful and [illegible] but what the real [illegible] offered to the public and we advise every one to see it."

INTERVENTION.—Every few weeks when the conviction is becoming settled that foreign intervention is impossible a flag and cry are raised that England or France has resolved to intervene, and some how will [illegible] bring our national struggle to a close. Notwithstanding these rumors the finest clothing is still supplied by the celebrated Clothiers Henston, Hastings & Co., of Montgomery street corner of Sutter San Francisco. Their goods are fashionable and durable and consequently their regular customers are continually increasing.

Samaritan Lodge No. 2, I. O. of O. F.—Meets every Wednesday Evening at 8 o'clock in Starkey's building third story opposite the Dekum House. Members of the order are invited to attend.

Written for the Daily Morning Oregonian.

The Young Dreamer.

There is a little fairy glen
Far away from the paths of men,
Where twelve months seem one lovely spring—
Where sweet flowers bloom and gay birds sing;
Down the slope of a little hill
There runs a clear and cooling rill,
Whose silver waters lightly flow
Through shady nooks, where roses grow.
At morn the sun peeps gently through
The trees still wet with glistening dew,
Snatches a kiss from every flower,
And decks in smiles this lovely bower.
This is the spot, of all the rest,
To nature's richest garments dressed,
And in this fair, uncommon spot,
To nestle, down a lovely cot,
Which seems, with all its birds and flowers,
Like one of nature's fairy towers
And, 'mid this scenery, grand and wild—
This haunt, indeed, of nature's child—
A fair and gentle being lives,
From whose pure mind the world receives
Bright specimens of deathless thought,
In fame's immortal garlands wrought.
She was taught by the birds to sing—
'Twas God who plumed the poet's wing;
From flowers she first learned beauty's name—
By nature's voice was cheered to fame.
And in this pleasant little glen,
Far away from the paths of men,
This fairy child of nature kind,
With priceless treasures of the mind,
Is weaving in her hidden home
A fadeless wreath for time to come,
To which she hopes some future day
To see a world its homage pay.
When hope grows old and beauty's fled—
When youth's bright garlands all are dead—
How sweet 'twill be to know her name
Will sound adown the aisles of fame,
When, within her fairy bower,
Tended by bird and tree and flower,
With nature for her mourning friend,
She calmly waits her coming end,
That thought will be a cheering beam,
Cast o'er the waves of Life's rough stream.

* * * * *

Ah, poor young dreamer! Could she know
How much of sorrow, sin and woe,
Is stamped upon the hearts of all
Who wear fame's glittering coronal,
She'd quickly yield each earnest claim
She now lays to a deathless name!
Could she but count each bitter tear
That must on fame's long scroll appear—
The disappointment could she see—
The blighted hopes that are to be—
She'd never wish, in her fair glen,
The homage or applause of men;
Nor would she nature's garlands give
For all the wreaths that fame can weave.

SALLIE B. GOODRICH.

Portland, Feb. 2d, 1864.

Beau Hackett becomes a Valiant Zouave.

Militia companies have always been popular, but never so much so as since the war broke out. Young men with stay-at-home-and-take-care-of-the-women proclivities, are more than ever inclined to join the Home Guards, in consequence of increased mortality in the army of the United States, as shown by the newspaper statistics.

With a laudable ambition to support the Government, in any and every emergency, I have recently became a member of the War Department myself. I joined the Ellsworth Zouaves, a remnant of what used to be a troupe of acrobats, who distinguished themselves all the way from Chicago to Washington, by turning double somersaults, with muskets in their mouths and bayonets in their hands.

There are no members of the Old Zouave battalion in the new one, but the new one retains the name of Ellsworth because one of the members has a brother that once saw a picture of Col. Ellsworth's grandfather. The names of organizations frequently have a more remote origin than this, and many of them are about as consistent and reasonable as a man claiming relationship to the President of the United States because he was born in Lincolnshire; or supposing he would be Governor if he married a governess, or trying to pass free at a circus as a representative of the press because he is a cheese-maker.

I was put through a rigid course of examination before I could be made a Zouave, and I say it with feelings of gratification and self-esteem, that I was remarkably well posted in the catechism. My father was a hero of the revolution, having been caught once in a water-wheel, and whirled around rapidly a number of times. Others of the family have also distinguished themselves as military men at different periods, but their deeds of courage are too well known to need repetition.

The following is a copy verbatim et literatim et wordem of most of the questions propounded to me, and the answers thereto, which my intimate acquaintance with the Army Regulations and the Report of the Committee on the Conduct of the War enabled me to answer readily and accurately. My interrogator was a little man in Federal blue, with gold leaves on his shoulders. They called him Major, but he looked young enough to be a minor. He led off with—

"How old are you, and what are your qualifications?"

"Twenty-two and a strong stomach."

Then I requested him to fire his interrogations singly, which he did:

"What is the first duty to be learned by a soldier?"

"How to draw his rations."

"What is the most difficult feat for a soldier to perform?"

"Drawing his bounty."

"If you were in the rear rank of a company during an action, and the man in the front rank before you should be wounded and disabled, what would you do?"

"I would dispatch myself in the rear for a surgeon immediately. Some men would step forward and take the wounded man's place, but that is unnatural."

"If you were commanding skirmishers, and saw cavalry advancing in the front and infantry in the rear, which would you meet?"

"Neither; I would mass myself for a bold movement, and shove out sideways."

"If you were captured what line of conduct would you pursue?"

"I would treat my captors with the utmost civility!"

"What are the duties of Home Guards?"

"Their duty is to see that they have no duties."

"What will you take?"

The latter question may have been answered with too much vehemence, and may have impressed listeners with the belief that I am in the habit of jumping at conclusions. Such, however, is not the case.

I am a Zouave; I am a Home Guard. I have been through all the manœuvres, and can right about face; I can also write about any other part of the body. I can do the hand-springs, and the tumbling, and the lay down and roll-overs, which are done with and without a musket. I have been drilled until the drill has become a bore. I have drilled in all the marches and leaps and vaults, and in the bayonet exercises, and in all the steps—the common step, the quick step, the very quick step, and the double quick step, and the trot and the run; also in slow time and long time, which I never learned from my landlady nor my tutor. I can shoulder arms, and bear arms and carry arms (if they are not too heavy), and reverse arms, and support arms (ordinarily my arms support me), and I can order arms better than I can pay for them after they are ordered. I can parry in tierce, and I can throw a hand spring with a sword-bayonet in my hand without breaking the sword bayonet in more than three pieces, and I can bite off a cartridge without breaking my teeth out.

Once, when an order was given to sling knapsacks I stood mine out of the window, and when the order was given to unsling knapsacks, I went out and flung it back again quicker than anybody else could have done it. I have got a pretty knapsack too—there are letters on it. It is just the thing to sit down on in the time of an action, and is big enough for a breastwork in case of danger from bullets or anything of that sort. It's heavy, though, and I felt there was an immense responsibility resting on me the first time I shouldered it. I must have felt like Atlas did the first time he shouldered the world. It was so heavy that, as a piece of masterly strategy, I left back the first time I strapped it on; and as a piece of unmasterly strategy I came near breaking my head against the floor. The Major has kindly promised to put sawdust, softed with soda water, on the floor hereafter.

I have been getting a Major General's uniform made. There is every opportunity that could be desired for promotion, in our corps, where real merit exists, and a Major General of Home Guards is not to be sneezed at. I may have to keep my uniform a few years before I will have occasion to wear it, but a Major General's toggery is a good thing to have in case of promotion. I trust my friends will give themselves no uneasiness, as I feel sure of ultimate success in the enterprise I have undertaken. I mean to strike the keynote of my campaign soon, and then look out for a sensation in military circles.

I haven't shaved my upper lip since yesterday afternoon. To-morrow will be the third day. I mean to grow a mustache that will be an object of admiration and envy. Mustachios are indispensable to the achievement of a Major Generalship. Mustachios are absolutely necessary to the achievement of any thing that is useful. I have laid mine out on the plan of the barber's in Arleoniker's (that's a kind of an abbreviation of Arlington, Kelly, Leon and Donniker's) opera troupe. Mr. Spaulding nobly and generously volunteered to sit by as a pattern while my barber took the measure of my face, and he also generously and nobly volunteered to lend me the prize of the shave.

I am a Zouave, and I can almost feel that I am a Major General. I am constantly on the alert to detect the faults in our home defenses. Two of the first things I shall do on assuming command of the Home Guards here will be to erect a line of fortifications on Michigan avenue, and over the city with a mosquito bar. Our harbor defences are very poor, and will admit of many improvements. I shall also build a fortress at Calumet and erect a drug store at the mouth of the Chicago river. In the event of a war between the United States and the Esquimaux, Chicago will, in all likelihood, be one of the first cities attacked by the invading enemy, and every precaution should be taken to be fully prepared for them. Should such attack ever be made by the warlike and bloodthirsty Esquimaux, or any other of the great powers of the earth, and should it be my misfortune to be unable personally to command my forces, (for I have often observed that an invasion was productive of sickness,) I shall take care that my second officer is a man of sufficient capacity to defend the city as ably as I would do it myself. Should the worst come to worst, I stand ready to sacrifice a substitute on the altar of my country.

I am, patriotically and militarily,

BEAU HACKETT.

A WELL-KEPT SECRET.—Of the descendants of the Pilgrims, there once lived an old man who, unlike nearly all his brethren, had no particular respect for the clergy. Going his accustomed rounds one day he met a reverend gentleman who, after a few casual remarks on worldly topics, thus addressed him:

"Mr. B—, you have lived long, very few attain your age. Would it not be the part of wisdom to attend to your soul's concerns immediately? Really, it would rejoice my soul to see you, at the eleventh hour, become a praying Christian."

"Well, now, Parson H—, my bible tells me to pray in secret."

"Ah, well, yes, but do you pray in secret."

"Well, now, Parson, you know if I should tell you, 't would n't be any secret."

RECITATION.—"First class in Oriental philosophy, stand up. Thibets, what is life?"

"Life, sir, consists of money, a horse, and a fashionable wife."

"What is poverty?"

"Poverty is the reward of merit, received by genius, from a discriminating public."

"What is religion?"

"Doing unto others as you please, without allowing a return of the compliment."

"What is fame?"

"A six line puff in a newspaper."

Old Marm G— was never regarded as a paragon of neatness; and if cleanliness is next unto godliness, as St. Paul asserts, it is to be feared that the old lady never attained to the latter state. Not only was she anything but neat herself, but she showed a sovereign contempt for it in others. Speaking of neat people, one day, she remarked that her son Josiah was one of the most particular men in the world. "Why," said she, "he threw away a whole cup of coffee, the other morning because it had a bed-bug in it!"

PAT NOT TO BE DONE.—"Buy a trunk, Patrick," said a dealer.

"And what for should I buy a thrunk?" rejoined Pat.

"To put your clothes in," was the reply.

"An' go naked, meself!" exclaimed Pat, "the divil a bit iv it."

A waggish fellow once said that the reason why unmarried ladies look so often at the moon, was the vulgar belief that there was a man in it.

To The Public.

I WOULD HEREBY CALL THE ATTENTION of the public to the fact, that on the first of May, 1864, they will be called upon by the United States Assessors, to make statement of Incomes for the year 1863, and as the year 1863 is just ended, it would be well for every one to make up their accounts for said year, while everything is fresh in their memory, and be ready to make statement when called upon by the Assessor.

Under the ruling of the Commissioner of Internal revenue, persons can only deduct expenses for repairs, etc., from the amount received from the same property on which such expenditure have been made. For instance—a person receives $500 for rents, he can use of that amount all that is necessary to repair such property, from whence the rents were derived; his house rents applied to steam-boats, saw-mills, and other like property; but all moneys derived from interest on notes, Bonds, Mortgages, and from dividends, must be returned as income, although a portion or the whole has been expended in repairing Buildings, steamboats, etc.

If persons will prepare their accounts and systematic showing amounts received and the source from whence derived, amount expended, and for what purpose, (bear with the forms and blanks which will be furnished them by the Assessor,) correct return can be made.

Oregon Statesman and Monitor please copy.

AYER'S

CHERRY PECTORAL,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

Colds, Coughs, and Hoarseness.

BRENFIELD, MASS., 20th Dec., 1855.

DR. J. C. AYER: I do not hesitate to say the best remedy I have ever found for Coughs, Hoarseness, Influenza, and the concomitant symptoms of a Cold, is your CHERRY PECTORAL. Its constant use in my practice and my family for the last ten years has shown it to possess superior virtues for the treatment of throat complaints. EBEN KNIGHT, M. D.

A. B. MORTLEY, Esq., of Utica, N. Y., writes: "I have used your PECTORAL myself and in my family ever since you introduced it, and believe it the best medicine for its purposes ever put up. With a bad cold I should sooner pay twenty dollars for a bottle than do without it, or take any other remedy."

Croup, Whooping Cough, Influenza.

STRINGTOWN, Miss., Feb. 7, 1856.

DR. J. C. AYER: I will cheerfully certify that your PECTORAL is the best remedy we possess for the cure of Whooping Cough, Croup, and the chief diseases of children. We of your family have both appreciate your skill, and consumed your medicine. HIRAM CONNER, M. D.

AMOS LEE, Esq., MONTGOMERY, Ia., writes, Feb. 2, 1856: "I had a tedious Influenza, which confined me in bed a week. I took many medicines without relief, finally procured a bottle of your PECTORAL, by the advice of our clergyman. The first dose relieved the soreness in my throat and lungs; less than one bottle entirely cured me completely well. Your medicine has done me more good, as well as the best we can buy, and we esteem it a favor to have your remedies, as the poor man's friend."

Asthma or Phthisic, and Bronchitis.

WEST MANCHESTER, Pa., Feb. 4, 1856.

SIR: YOUR CHERRY PECTORAL is performing wonders in this section. It has relieved several from the first stages of consumption, and is now curing a man who has had an affection of the lungs for the last forty years.

HENRY L. PARR.

A. A. RAMSEY, M. D., ATHENS, MONROE CO., GA., Sept. 6, 1855: "During my practice of many years I have found nothing equal to your CHERRY PECTORAL for giving relief to consumptive patients, or curing such as can be cured."

We might add volumes of evidence, but the best proof of the virtues of this remedy is found in a fair trial.

Consumption.

Probably no one remedy has ever been known to cure many and such dangerous cases as this. Some cases it cannot reach; but even to these the CHERRY PECTORAL gives relief and comfort.

ASTOR HOUSE, NEW YORK CITY, Feb. 1, 1856.

DOCTOR AYER, LOWELL: I feel it a duty and a pleasure to inform you what your CHERRY PECTORAL has done for me.
